Baby Survives Rare Operation

A HEALTHY, normal, month-old baby girl will be taken back to her parents' home on Frick's Lock road, Pottstown Rd 1, today, after surviving the ordeal of rare abdominal surgery at Valley Forge General hospital.

She is Kathi-Anne Ryan, daughter of Major and Mrs. Cyril B. Ryan. The infant was born in the Memorial hospital the past Oct. 12 and appeared normal.

Within a few hours, however, Kathi-Anne showed signs of abnormal abdominal swelling, and X-rays were made immediately.

DR. KATHLEEN KIRK Wendell, Pottstown pediatrician, and Dr. Herbert W. Barron, of Collegeville, who delivered the child, decided that immediate surgery would be necessary, although Kathi-Anne was but 20 hours old.

She was taken to Valley Forge General hospital and there a major abdominal operation was performed by Lt. Col. Harold A. Conrad, chief of surgical service at the hospital, and by Dr. Frederick R. Robbins, of Philadelphia, consultant in general surgery to the Valley Forge hospital and to the Children's hospital, of Philadelphia.

Despite the extreme danger of shock, a delicate operation was undertaken during the course of which a connection had to be established between the sections of the child's intestinal system.

It was found that a six-foot section of the small intestine was missing, and that the first section was not connected. The unconnected sections were joined.

In the few hours following Kathi-Anne's birth, the upper section of the intestine had swollen as much as two and one-half inches, while the lower, disconnected section had atrophied. Otherwise, doctors said, the baby was normal.

They emphasized that infant mortality in such cases was "very high."

ALTHOUGH KATHI-ANNE lost seven ounces during her ordeal, she recovered rapidly, and her cheerfulness and good temper during her convalescence won for her the nickname of "Rosebud."

By coincidence, the baby of another officer, Thomas Scheurle, 11 months, whose parents, Capt. and Mrs. Roland Scheurle, live in (Continued on Page Fourteen)

DARDEN GIVEN 3 TO 6 YEARS IN PISTOL SLAYING

Norristown Man Enters
Guilty Plea in Shooting
Outside Pottstown Hotel

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Nov. 4.—Wilson Darden, 21, Norristown, began a three-to-six year prison term today after he pleaded guilty to the pistol slaying of a Pottstown youth. The charge was voluntary manslaughter.

Herbert C. Nelson, Darden's attorney, said in an impassioned plea for leniency: "This has been a very regrettable affair that was induced by three things—liquor, a gun and a gang attack on an outsider."

Nelson had surrendered his client after he was missing for a week. Norman Brown, 21, of 736 Sheridan street, was shot fatally on Saturday morning, Sept. 4, outside the Hotel James, Lincoln avenue and Grant street.

Levi Burdan, special officer at the hotel, testified before Judge George C. Corson that Darden had submitted to arrest until he heard someone in the crowd say, "He shot Norm Brown. Let's get the..."

At this point the officer said, the 220-pound Darden broke free and sprinted into the darkness.

ALTHOUGH THEY did not testify, several members of the Pottstown police department were on hand to hear sentence imposed. They included Chief James A. Laughhead, Sgt. Daniel J. Linton and Motor Patrolman Lewis M. Borgiet.

Darden's attorney said that his client felt the pistol only when he fired it, he was going to attack him, he said Brown and his friends resented Darden's presence and were bent on doing something about it.

The defendant gave this account of the incident:

He, his wife and another couple went to the hotel for chicken sandwiches. He was talking to an acquaintance when Brown, seated at another table, spilled beer on his trousers.

"He did not apologize or anything and I asked him, 'Don't you have any manners,'" Darden arose, an argument started and Brown struck him. Darden said he began fighting and knocked Brown over a table. Others got into the fight and bottles and other objects were thrown at him, he said. When he saw men pick up a chair, he ran out of the place.

The crowd followed him, making threats, he said, and bricks were being thrown at him.

Council Dines Secretly at $3 a Head To Kick Around Union 'Hot Potato'

"Keep at it. A good Republican always pays his debts." So said a woman on High street last night to John Wejak, 168-pound Republican shown above mopping his dwey brow as he pauses in his election-bait haul. The man behind the big cigar and bigger grin is Jim Guadagno, 300 pounds of Democrat. Watching (left to right) are Joseph Salada, Julius Kolvek and Oscar Hoffman. The pay-off ride drew hundreds of applauding or wise-cracking spectators and a sound wagon that boomed out, "I'm looking over a four-leaf clover that I overlooked before."

Both Parties Nicked For Steak Dinners

S-s-s-h.

You're not supposed to be in on this news! It's about the underground movement of Pottstown's councilmen.

The councilmen, good men and true servants of the public all, are worried about the 40 or so borough workers who are forming a union.

They're worried about the higher wages these workers may get. So they met over a sumptuous steak dinner, at $3 a plate, to try to settle the hash of the borough workers, who get as little as 90 cents an hour.

Union leaders have met with the councilmen, and the borough leaders agreed to ask council for a State election to settle the union matter.

For a while, it looked as though everything was settled.

But after the union representatives and 10 councilmen met in borough hall council chambers, on Friday, Oct. 29, some of the politicians got nervous.

"WE OUGHT to talk this thing over privately, fellows," they said. "We ought to present a solid front, so we won't look so bad."

So the promoter, C. Roy Bush, Ninth ward Democrat and president of council, thought a super-secret meeting of the 20 representatives of the people would be a good idea—without benefit of the press.

"No," said someone else, "we councilmen have to go to enough meetings."

"How about a dinner?" one of them suggested.

The boys perked up at that idea. They didn't want to pay for it themselves, though.

But if someone else would pay the tab, that would be a horse of another aroma, they figured.

SO BUSH SAID he'd get $50 from the Democrats, and Earl R. Strange, West ward Republican, said he was sure the GOP would be happy to pitch in another $50. Altogether, there would be plenty to pay for this feast.

U.S. to Spare 29 Families In Evictions

Revised income levels which go into effect Jan. 1 will save at least 29 of the 74 Penn. Village families facing eviction from their homes, John P. Kane, New York area director of the Public Housing authority, declared yesterday.

Speaking before a combined meeting of borough officials, members of the Citizens Housing committee, council's housing and recently formed Penn. Village committees, and the Penn. Village Tenants' association, in borough hall, Kane said he approved the revised schedule yesterday morning.

The meeting was called in an effort to find some way of saving the tenants of these tenements from eviction.

Tom J. Bonita, secretary of the tenants' association, pleaded the cause of those who will have to leave their homes.

QUOTING FROM an editorial which appeared in yesterday's Mercury, Bonita pointed out that few of the families could afford either the prices asked for new homes or the rents demanded for apartments.

"Where are these people going to go?" he asked. "We would welcome any assistance or suggestions you can give us as to where they can go."

Kane, who was accompanied by Mrs. Thelma K. Howard, of the PHA, offered two suggestions. The revised income schedules, he said, would reduce the number of those being evicted while veterans' families facing eviction would get preference for comparable apartments in Hilldale.

"We are not Skylocks who get pleasure out of forcing people from their homes," he remarked. "We sympathize with their problems, but we also must obey the laws covering the operation of these projects and the Housing Act."

"Actually," he continued, "the problem here isn't as severe as it appears. These evictions will be spread out over a period of a year, with just a few going each month. According to that editorial, there is some building going on, and it should be possible for these people to find some place to live."

HE POINTED OUT that the project must go back to its original (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Truman Won't Shake Up Cabinet in Reprisal Move

WITH TRUMAN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Word that Truman is not interested in a third term or in any "reprisal" dismissal from his cabinet was passed to newsmen today by sources close to the victorious Chief Executive.

These informants said he is content to let his record in history rest on his administration during the next four years.

The smiling President, in addressing a crowd at St. Louis, had voiced a plea that the people "stand behind me."

Meanwhile, persons close to the President gave this picture of his present feelings and plans:

He feels that he should concentrate on "securing the peace" and strengthening the domestic economy.

MR. TRUMAN'S fighting spirit was kindled by those who tried to sidetrack him before the last Democratic convention. With all its burdens, he wanted a "second term in his own right." He feels that he has been vindicated by his astounding upset victory.

He not only won a victory for himself, and helped elect a Democratic Congress, but he restored a weak and sagging party.

He thinks he will have an opportunity during the next four years to revitalize that party and help build up leaders to carry it on in the years ahead.

As for his cabinet, there will be no abrupt dismissals based on lack of interest in the campaign.

John W. Snyder, Secretary of the Treasury and one of his closest friends, will be pressed to remain on.

James V. Forrestal, secretary of defense, will not be pressed to stay.

NOR WILL ROBERT A. LOVETT, undersecretary of state, who is planning to leave soon anyway.

Secretary of State George Marshall indicated at Paris that he desires to retire at the close of the President's administration. He and the President have a warm personal relationship.

Lovett's attitude during the hard-fought campaign caused more resentment among those in the thick of the President's battle.

MAN IS HELD ON LARCENY TRY

Patrolman Nabs Suspect
In Act of Tampering
With Car Ignition Wires

Patrolman Joseph Thies arrested a Phoenixville man this morning at 12:34 o'clock on High street, after catching him in the act of crossing wires on a car to get it started. He charged him with attempted larceny of an auto.

Thies learned the suspect's actions from Charles Watkins, of 21 West Third street, and Earl Houck, of 31 Reynolds avenue.

They told Thies they had seen John W. Erwin, 25, Phoenixville, try to enter three cars parked on the south side of High street near the Pottstown Motors shop, 22 High street, where they were standing.

When Erwin tried to enter the first car, they did not pay much attention, thinking he was the owner. The second locked car which he tried was owned by Watkins.

AS THEY DECIDED to call a patrolman, the pair said, Erwin entered the high-priced sedan of Mrs. Carrie L. March, of 26 High street. Erwin tampered with the lights, and looked behind the visor for a key, Watkins and Houck asserted.

The two witnesses jumped into a car and climbed to High and Penn streets, where Thies was on foot patrol.

Thies went with them, but told them to stop their car short of Mrs. March's. "I want to see him at work," Thies explained.

Thies crept around to the front of the sedan and the thief still was busy trying to fix ignition wires.

Huge California Fire Destroys 200 Homes

LOG ANGELES, Nov. 4 (AP)—More than 200 homes were reported destroyed tonight by a brush fire sweeping down Topanga canyon toward the Pacific ocean.

Hundreds of residents had left the area, some of them burned out and others abandoning their property to the advancing flames.

Officers were evacuating the residents of Fernwood, estimated by fire fighters at upwards of 2,000, as the fire crept within half a mile of that area, still pushed by a high wind.

In its five mile sweep down the canyon from woodland hills, where the fire started early this afternoon, it had swept over an area of more than 10 square miles.

No deaths had been reported, and only minor injuries.

TRACTOR MISHAP FATAL TO YOUTH

Schwenkville Boy Pinned
Under Burning Machine,
Dies in Memorial Hospital

Leon Meyers, 16, whose legs, hands and back were burned severely when a tractor toppled on him and ignited the past Oct. 12, died in Memorial hospital at 3:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The son of Benjamin F. and Eva (Detra) Meyers, of Schwenkville Rd. 1, had been recovering slowly in the hospital, his physician declared, until he suddenly began losing ground Wednesday.

After a post-mortem examination in the Memorial hospital last night, the cause of death was listed as toxemia and degeneration areas of the brain.

THE BOY WAS DRIVING a tractor along the Limerick-Schwenkville road, not far from his home, on the morning of Oct. 12, when it began weaving on the road.

School children of the Fairview school, near where the accident took place, described the erratic behavior of the tractor.

It fell suddenly, pinning Meyers to the ground and burning him.

Truman Better Shares In President's Glory

By FRED SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

To the obvious satisfaction of several hundred persons on High street last night, the Good Will Fire company proved that it only takes two to make a parade.

No ordinary parade, it featured aerial bombs, flares, the wail of a siren, a little red wagon, flowers, streamers, a ribbon-decked high hat, a sound truck and a crowd that liked the show well enough to applaud when they saw it pass.

But there were only two marchers—John Wejak, who thought Governor Dewey was going to win the election, and James V. Guadagno, one of the few people who had agreed with President Truman's forecast of victory.

The 168-pound Wejak hauled 300-pound "Big Jim" two long blocks on High street, from Hanover street to Charlotte street.

THE ELECTION-BET loser started pulling at 7:05 o'clock, when William Tostito sounded the Goodies' siren and Dominic Gelani set off the first of three bombs from the Chester county bank of the Schuylkill.

The red boys' wagon rolled down the eastbound lane of traffic (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Empires and Phillies Re-Nominate Heads For Coming Ballot

The Empire Hook and Ladder company and the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company last night renominated without opposition their incumbent presidents and virtually the entire slate.

Only the Phillies nominated more than they need and that was only for delegations and the board of directors.

Both companies will hold elections Dec. 2. In the case of the Hooks, it will be merely a matter of installation. The Phillies election will last from noon until 8 p. m. and installation will be on Jan. 6.

At the Hooks' meeting, Ralph Marino, Army veteran and father of two, was nominated for his second term as president. Assisting him will be James Orr, also renamed for his second year, as vice president.

Albert Kerr, for more than 30 years company secretary, was renominated to office as was Richard Moser, company fire chief for the past decade.

OTHER OFFICERS, who were in effect re-elected, were Paul Russell, assistant secretary, Francis Ott, treasurer, Joseph Thies, delegate to the Pennsylvania Firemen's association convention, and Joseph Sobersky, delegate to the Pottstown Firemen's Relief association, a five-year term.

Taking office for the first time will be Paul D. Graeff, assistant treasurer; Lawrence Romich, alternate delegate to the State convention, and Harrison Seeders Jr., Elmer Patrick and Paul Terwilliger, delegates (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Caterpillars Are Taking Over as Weather Seers

A few years from now people may start the furnace with their aimings and use the woolly bear caterpillar, instead of tell them what kind of Winter they're in for.

A recent bug-hunt by New York entomologists (bug experts) showed that the relative meanness of the impending Winter may be indicated by the width of the caterpillar's central brown stripe.

The past year, they pointed out, the woolly bear's brown stripe was narrow. The Winter that followed was a bummer.

But this Fall the bears have a new look. They are wearing a broader stripe. By entomological standards, this calls for a milder Winter.

THE ENTOMOLOGISTS want to know if the superstition has any basis, if the bear's stripe can really predict forthcoming weather.

If this Winter is mild, they will swing behind the woolly bear because two predicted Winters don't make a weather prophet but it comes close.

If this Winter is mild, you're going to see a lot of almanac writers out in the woods with paper bags next Fall, too.

Mild Weather Boosts Temperature Up to 69

A 35-hour steady rise in the mercury ended yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at 69 degrees, only five degrees away from the all-time record for the day.

It was a dark victory for Indian Summer, though. Clouds, particularly in the afternoon, banked heavily over the area, but no rain fell.

Cloudy and somewhat warmer was the weather bureau hand-out for today. Showers tonight will continue tomorrow accompanied by winds and cooler.

Milk Cases Pin Driver in Crash

The driver of a Cloverleaf Dairy truck escaped injury yesterday morning when he was pinned against his steering wheel by shifting milk cases after the vehicle hit a telephone pole at the corner of King and Quinter streets, Stowe.

Turning left onto Quinter street from King street, the driver claimed he was blinded by the headlights of a approaching vehicle. The truck swung wide, the right front bumper and fender hitting the pole.

On the impact, the milk cases shifted forward, pinning the driver against the steering wheel.

Lloyd H. Eckhart, Shenkel road, released him by moving the milk cases. He then took him to a nearby diner to call the dairy for help.

Part of the load of milk was shattered in the crash.

Carroll Rutter Appointed As Draft Agent

Carroll I. Rutter, borough solicitor, yesterday was named government appeal agent for local Draft Board 110 by Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, State Selective Service chief.

The local attorney will "protect the interests of the government in relation to classification and appeals" and also the rights of registrants in such cases.

Rutter served in the same capacity during five years of the past war.

COMES AS A WINDFALL Hospital Given Hot Food Table

Because of one man's sudden generosity, Memorial hospital patients soon will get their meals hot instead of lukewarm.

Charles R. Wylie, administrator, revealed yesterday that within three weeks the hospital will dispense patients' meals from a mobile hot food table.

The man who picked up the whole tab of $750 for the table was Daniel G. Burkert, president of the Eastern Foundry company, Boyertown.

The hot table was No. 1 on a list of items Wylie considers necessary to the hospital.

THE DONATION came as a windfall.

Wylie, accompanied by George L. Harberger, member of the hospital board, were visiting Burkert at his plant a few days ago. The industrialist and the hospital administrator have been friends for years.

After lunch in the Boyertown inn and an inspection of the plant, (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Closed Shop Legalized in Mass., N. Mex. To Give Labor Major Victories at Polls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — Organized labor scored two major victories Tuesday when voters in Massachusetts and New Mexico rejected closed shop laws. They were partially offset by a new setback in Arizona.

The issues were among the more than 200 local proposals appearing on ballots in 35 states, many of national interest. These included: Bonuses for World War II veterans, approved in six states at an estimated cost to taxpayers of $500,000,000. Four states rejected bonus proposals and two turned down other types of benefits.

Repeal of the 58-year-old Kansas prohibition amendment, which has the effect of tossing the controversial wet-dry issue into the lap of the State legislature for final determination of the right of Kansans to take a legal drink.

LABOR'S SUCCESS at the polls was a marked departure from the setbacks suffered two years ago when Arizona, Nebraska and South Dakota voted to prohibit the closed shop.

Militant unionists scored their most complete 1948 victory in Massachusetts where voters rejected: (A) a "right to work" measure; (B) a requirement that labor union officers be elected by secret ballot at least once a year, and (C) a prohibition against strikes except those voted by a majority of the union's membership.

New Mexico voters turned down an "open shop" amendment which would have prohibited denying employment to any person because of membership in, resignation or expulsion from a labor organization, or refusal to join a union.

IN ARIZONA, where the state's 1946 anti-closed shop amendment is being attacked on constitutional grounds, the electorate nevertheless voted an enabling act which would: Prohibit any compulsion against a person to join a labor union or strike against his will; prohibit conspiracies to violate the act; provide that any person injured or threatened with injury by any illegal act shall be entitled to injunctive relief; provide that any person violating provisions of the act shall be liable for damages to the person injured.

The original amendment, which the Arizona State Federation of Labor contends is unconstitutional, is scheduled for hearing before the U. S. Supreme court next week. The six states approving bonuses for World War II vets were Indiana, South Dakota, Louisiana, Iowa, Washington and, apparently, Minnesota. The Minnesota decision will not be definite until the state canvassing board determines whether the proposal received the required majority of all votes cast. The Indiana proposal is not binding on the State legislature.

MISSOURI, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Oregon rejected bonus proposals. North Dakota turned down a levy for a veterans' rehabilitation fund, and California apparently has rejected a veterans' tax exemption plan.

The only state besides Kansas to vote affirmatively on a liquor proposal was Washington which approved sale of liquor by the drink in hotels, restaurants and other public places with restaurant facilities.

Five other states — California, Colorado, North Dakota, Oregon and South Dakota — rejected various local option and sales proposals. South Dakota also decided not to require that all whiskey sold in the state be at least three years old.

Two other issues of more than local interest found:

Massachusetts declining to amend its 100-year-old law dealing with "birth control." The proposed amendment, opposed by the Catholic church, would have made it legal for doctors to give contraceptive advice to married women whose health would be endangered by pregnancy.

South Carolina becoming the 48th state to legalize divorce.

the LAMB'S MUSIC HOUSE is planning a big musical party, for two reasons

... first:

Due to numerous requests, we are resuming our series of Record Appreciation Evenings. Mr. Powell Middleton of West Chester State Teachers College has again consented to be our "commentator" for this series. He analyzes for us the works of the great masters by "painting a word picture" of the particular overture or symphony in question. Thereby, we are able to enjoy these works to a far greater degree.

... secondly:

We would like to introduce to you the new 45 minute Columbia microgroove record. These records offer you a complete orchestration of most of the great masters, all on one record. There is no need for record changing as in the album form.

Be our guest on the evening of November 10, at the Music House. The program starts at 8:00 p. m. Stop in and share this pleasure with us.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1948

I live in a constant endeavor to fence against the infirmities of ill-health, and other evils of life by mirth. I am persuaded that every time a man smiles — but much more so when he laughs — it adds something to this fragment of life. — Sterne.

A Right to Keep
POTTSTOWN created an all-time record Tuesday when 8250 citizens voted. That was 82 percent of the registered eligible voters.

But where were the other 2795? And where were the other eligibles who didn't even register?

Not long ago — on October 19, at Raleigh, S. C., President Harry S. Truman said:

"To be influenced by nothing but what you know to be true and what you feel to be just, as you cast your ballot, is to attain a dignity to which title and office can add nothing — the dignity of a free American citizen."

Notwithstanding that a presidential election comes but once every four years, not more than one voter out of every two walked into a polling place Tuesday. Late reports say only a depressing 44,000,000 voted.

What can American citizens be thinking of when they care so little for the means by which men keep themselves free?

In 1940, the last previous presidential election, only 49,000,000 voters exercised the right that men have died for.

In one of the states of the union, one voter in 10 goes to the polls and yet the ballot is "a right men have died for."

What a travesty on democracy it is! Unless he or she has a very good reason for not having voted, every citizen who stayed away from the polls has been guilty of a disservice to his country and the free elections which have made it the world's hope for downtrodden men.

Officers From the Ranks

AMERICAN commanders from Gen. Washington to Generals Marshall and Eisenhower have paid tribute to the principle of the "citizen army." No army, of course, can be a thoroughly democratic institution. But it can adhere, as far as is consistent with discipline and efficiency, to the fundamental democratic ideals — among them being the absence of a caste system and the opportunity for men in their ranks to advance according to their abilities.

The army, therefore, deserves commendation for its new stress on seeking officer material in the ranks. Men who have served in any of the armed forces and have completed two years of college or university training (plus other requirements on age, physical condition, etc.) may apply for direct commissions — after which they will be sent to OCS, High school graduates may enlist as sergeants, get their basic training as enlisted men and then go on to OCS on quota schedules.

Most of the army's officers in these times of abnormal expansion will still come from the military academy, ROTC and similar sources. But if the army will sincerely push this new policy, the time may yet come when the whole regular officer corps will genuinely reflect the citizen's army principle.

Relief From Silver

SENATOR GREEN of Rhode Island has announced he will introduce a bill at the next session of Congress to repeal the silver purchase act and end the "longest and greatest treasury raid in history."

When one considers what different interests have taken from the treasury by one means or another, that is a rather extravagant indictment. But the measures which silver buying western senators have forced upon the treasury and the taxpayers to raise the white metal's price above market levels are inexcusable. So Senator Green's proposed plan is welcome — even though it comes from a state which waxes silver as a cheap raw material for its jewelry industry.

At last! Summer's special session, Representative John Sanborn of Idaho and Senator Zales Ecton of Montana were proposing that the treasury buy all the silver produced in this country at $50 an ounce, four to five times the metal's present price. Such a measure would be good for silver miners, but would be an enormous burden upon the far greater number of taxpayers and consumers.

Now Welcomed by Chest

To the Editor: So we're a bunch of "backsliders," are we? So the laboring man is taking a punch on the nose for not coming his share to help the Community Chest?

When Mr. Roberts addressed those unkind remarks to the campaign workers in the YMCA Wednesday night, he marked himself as a man with a remarkable short memory.

Yes, I am referring to the many years that the working man — the guy who has a wife and four kids and is earning $68.50 a week — was ignored in this great community effort to help the needy and the youth.

We were asked for our contributions and many of us gave. We received little or no recognition for it. Besides, it wasn't popular to give the laboring man a seat alongside of the banker, the doctor, the store owner, etc. His money was good, but his dirty hands and overalls weren't.

Things have changed now. The laboring man has come into his own. As the same time, Community Chest needs have become greater and the hands that once brushed us aside are reaching out to us for help.

I think I can speak for the average worker in our plants when I say that we will not turn you down. We appreciate the belated recognition you have given us. Most of us have better memories than Mr. Roberts, however. All this fare about a labor division in the Community Chest of 1948 strikes a discord in our memory.

So give us time, Mr. Roberts. Don't get impatient for you and your workers must cut through a corn of all which was created by your short-sighted predecessors.

Pull Together for New School

To the Editor: This is a good time for those who fought the Limerick school bond issue to lick their wounds and pitch in to help carry out the verdict in the referendum.

A lot of words were tossed back and forth in the campaigning on this issue. Some of those in Limerick called it "mud slinging." Maybe some of it was. Passions often are aroused when vital matters like this are up for decision.

We can't all have what we want. Some had other solutions to the schoolhouse problem. But our differences were settled the democratic way, with our American privilege of casting a ballot.

Our school directors will need all the encouragement possible in the big job ahead. Construction of the new building will take many extra hours of their time — a responsibility which they assumed when they drew up plans for the school.

Let us all get behind this job to make this the best school possible.

Limerick MRS. W. H.

All Democratic Weather

To the Editor: The results of the general election in Pottstown ought to permanently debunk the old belief that rain on election day is Democratic weather.

A year ago, when many of us got drenched going to the polls, the borough election brought out about 75 percent of the voters. The borough went Democratic then.

Last Tuesday, when not a drop of rain was in the air, about 82 percent of the registered voters cast ballots. Again the borough went Democratic.

It looks like election day is Democratic day — rain or shine.

Pottstown OLD-TIME VOTER

One 'Worse' Than 80th

To the Editor: Ever since Mr. Truman called the 80th Congress the second worst, I've been scanning U. S. histories to find the first worst and I finally found it.

The first session of the 75th Congress (Jan.-Aug. 1937) did not pass any legislation that the President asked and even when the President called them back for five weeks in November of that year, they passed only a weak routing bill. This Congress, under a Democratic President, also had a Democratic majority of 3-1.

Soviet Diplomats in U. S. Like Hibernating Bears

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — The "cold war" which congeals western diplomats in their Paris-Moscow-Berlin negotiations with Russia has its icy counterpart at the nation's Capital.

Stalin's steadily contracting family in the palatial Russian embassy on Sixteenth street, only a dozen blocks from the White House, has deliberately withdrawn from normal association with outsiders, who reciprocate only too gladly.

Ambassador Panyshkin's isolation would be pitiful, if it were not that he seeks it himself. Although he and his aides, diplomatic, military, naval and commercial, attend formal fetes, they usually retire to a corner of the room and chat in the Muscovite language among themselves, or with representatives of other "iron curtain" countries.

LIST: This withdrawing act became even more marked during the presidential campaign, when the candidates of at least four parties — Democratic, Republican, Socialist and States Rights — vied with one another in denouncing the Kremlin's policy of expansion, aggression and terrorization.

The embassy's social list grows smaller constantly. When an American official or a foreign diplomat voices public criticism of the Soviet, he or she is dropped from the official invitation book.

When a newspaperman writes adversely to Red intentions, as the writer knows from experience, his name is deleted. If one wants to eat, drink and sturgeon at their amazingly elaborate parties, or drink vodka, he must first stomach Stalin's indigestible utterances and activities.

BEAR: The Russians have "holed in" like a hibernating bear in other respects. Their supposed public relations representative will not answer even the most innocuous questions. He will not estimate the number of Communist diplomats. Army-Navy attaches, commercial experts or private business men accredited to or living in the United States or any other country.

Ambassador Panyshkin's first act on his arrival here several months ago was to stop sending ordinary press releases. The USSR Bulletin, copies of which are sent to all other embassies, and Washington newspaper correspondents. Although these were usually lavish eulogies of Russia's reindustrialization and modernization, they did present some sort of picture of postwar Russia.

VICTIMS: Ironically, the principal victims of this self-imposed boycott are the Russians themselves.

Until it became obvious that Moscow did not intend to keep her wartime pledges or to co-operate in world restoration, the Russian diplomatic family was treated like human beings. But they withdrew diplomatic children from public and private schools, they were invited into private homes as a result of these school contacts.

They obtained a fairly complete picture of American politics, society, industry and thought from these associations. Sometimes an overzealous host may have enlightened them on what President Truman calls "the facts of life" too well rather than wisely.

Government officials furnished them statistics on finance, trade, agriculture etc. Army-Navy representatives became good friends of their opposites, and the latter were frequently given access to "non-classified" data. In short, there was a mutually helpful interchange of information.

Now all these avenues are barricaded. The Muscovites are on the outside looking in.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway Grapevine JOHN HASKELL, the fabulous fellow who started as a chorus boy in Broadway shows, became a dancing star and Hollywood dance director and has been intimately acquainted with virtually every film star since the days of the flickers, is busily at work on his autobiography. The title — suggested by Edna Ferber — will be "I Knew Them All," and Gene Fowler is lending an editing assist. A national magazine is interested in pre-publication serialization.

Faye Emerson Roosevelt is panicking her pals at parties with her uncannily accurate imitation of Hugh Shannon, the pianist-singer at Le Perquet. They say she's expert enough at imitations to do them professionally.

Macoco, the town's busiest playboy, is being true to his favorite color, blond. The newest belle is Dorian Todd, from Maryland — he's avoiding his usual haunt, El Morocco's "Wolf-Land," because he doesn't want to share her.

THERE'S AN intriguing plan under way to synchronize the telephone systems of major cities so that subscribers may dial long distance numbers instead of summoning the operator as go between. The city of Chicago already has re-ramped its telephone system to coincide with the New York exchange pattern, as in REgent 7-7280. This sounds like a great time saver and a welcome improvement, but it may have a terrible effect on hostesses. Heretofore, when guests have asked permission to use the phone, it was safe to assume they were dialing a local call — but in the future, how can you tell? The obligation of the hostess is liable to get first-of-the-month bills for calls to places like London and Calcutta.

ORSON WELLES is not without competition for the hand and heart of actress Lea Padavani. Word from Italy has it that she also is given to swooning over a peasant who lives in the hills. The Riverside Memorial Chapel (funeral parlor to you) now has a Broadway press agent! . . . Gene Wesson, the comedy click at the Capitol, spends his off-stage time and extra money long-dancing Hollywood glamor girl Cara Williams. . . . Judy Gershwin, sister-in-law of the late composer, had a big night at her Raleigh Room opening. Harry Warren, the California tunesmith, offered her a singing role in a film, John Wildberg offered her a part in his forthcoming play, and a television executive offered her a video show of her own.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

QUEEN, 6, is the Shetland pony mentioned yesterday.

In order to encourage our older sons to pay their half of her purchase price, I decided to draw an outline picture of a pony.

Mrs. Crane then made a second copy, and crosshatched each picture so that it was composed of big and little squares.

Then she labeled some squares with 1-cent, others with 5-cent and the rest with 10-cent prices. Whenever the boys paid us something toward the $22.50 which was their quota, they were permitted to use their crayons and color as many sections of the pony as they had bought.

This graphic or visual method of recording their instalments was quite appealing. Philip quickly filled in all the 1-cent squares, however, in order to make it look as if his pony was more nearly paid for. Both other boys took a new interest in earning money and paying their debt, for they could see tangible results.

WE repose more faith in colored medicines and pink pills than in an hour's constructive though intangible lecture by our doctor.

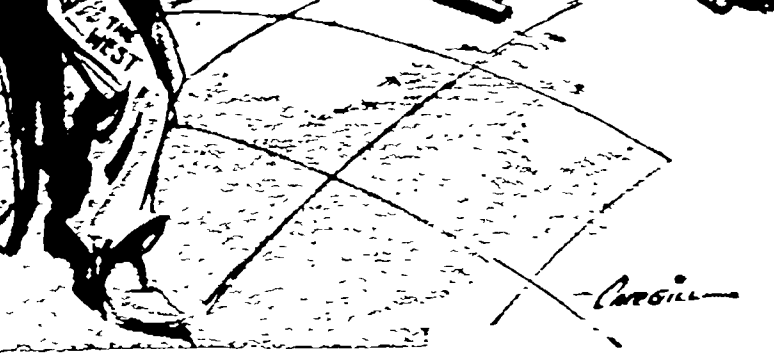

Even in regard to religion, we aren't much different from the Israelites who stampeded Aaron into molding a golden calf for them to worship.

An intangible object is more difficult to imagine than is a concrete item. Automobiles and radios, therefore, are much easier to sell than are life insurance policies.

The Incians thus sold out the future in exchange of their posterity for a few glittering beads and some fire water.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4 — Paramount bought "Little Boy Blue," a musical for which Betty Hutton is penciled in as the star, and which is supposed to start as soon as she can finish "The Broadway Story" now in work. But our dope is that Betty makes "My Friend Irma" as her next. This is the Hal Wallis production which will introduce those zany Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis audiences — and is based on the successful radio series. However, Marie Wilson, who stars in "Irma" on the air, is moving Heaven, earth and her agent trying to land that picture lead for herself. And she sure is pitchin' . . . Huntington Hartford, the zillionaire, is doing the spots with Marjorie Steel.

MOST FABULOUS millionaire in town is Bob Peters, NOT an oil man. He's an "oil-burner" though. His fortune comes from manufacturing such gadget. Now he's a one-man entertainment industry and currently backing four plays, two pictures, a television company and a record-manufacturing business! . . . Ruth Gunning is John Payne's latest charmer. . . . Steffi Duna and Dennis O'Keefe celebrating their eighth wedding anniversary. . . . Good looking Brad Evans, who debuts in "Task Force," which stars Gary Cooper. Mark of the Whistler. Power of the Whistler and Voice of the Whistler.

Novelist Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings has been a writer since 1909, but she has held several jobs besides — YWCA war work publicity, 1918-19; service editor of a magazine, newspaper writer and syndicated verse writer. Mrs. Rawlings' fiction writing began in 1931. The Yearling, her most famous book, was published in 1938 and has since been made into a motion picture. Mrs. Rawlings owns and manages a 72-acre orange grove in Florida.

Pottstown Sketches

By PHILLIPS

OUR GIGGLE for the day comes from reading that in Baltimore, the chapter of Anonymous Anonymous has moved into new offices. They moved into the Bromo-Seitzer building! . . . Bob Alton, the dance director, has been given a picture of his own to direct at Metro and it's about time. He's full of fresh, exciting ideas. He's the man who rounded the humorous and perfectly precisioned act of Kay Thompson and the Williams Brothers.

10 Years Ago

November 5, 1938

SCHOOLS CLOSED — The Lower Pottstown township schools were closed by Principal G. H. Y. Davidheiser on account of six scarlet fever cases among pupils between the ages of six and ten.

VETERAN S S WORKERS — Emmanuel Lutheran Sunday school honored its veteran workers. Mrs. H. M. Lessig has served for 55 years, while Frank Seasholtz has been active for 26 years. Mrs. Sydney R. Kepner, Mrs. Edna Shinehouse, Hiram Burdick, Dr. Paul Hoffman, Irwin Riegner, and others have served for about 25 years or more.

DANIEL BOONE HOMESTEAD — The Daniel Boone homestead at Exeter was dedicated. Dan R. Beard, son of the national Scout commissioner, accepted the renovated building on behalf of the youth of the nation.

He loves it, Aiden Reidenouer, and it saves me arriving a stake."

Aid for Mondays... Switch in Liquor...

WIFE SAVER — There will be few if any "blue Mondays" for Pottstown housewives in the very near future. Two self-service laundries will open in the borough within the month and mother's wash day blues are just about at an end. They will be a particular boon to mothers with small children and for bachelors now forced to wash socks and underwear in rooming house washtubs. First to open will be former beer distributor N. M. Sechler's Self Service Laundry at 800 North Charlotte street. Sechler has a bank of 20 late model washing machines that wash and rinse and four driers which dry, damp dry, and sterilize laundry. It takes just a half hour to do nine pounds of wash.

A SECOND self-service unit will open around Thanksgiving Day at 382 High street, near Franklin street. The proprietress will be Mrs. J. F. Sellers, Sanatoga. Mrs. Sellers' laundry will have 15 washers, two driers and an extractor. The extractor will take about 90 percent of the moisture from the wash so that busy housewives can take it home and iron it immediately, while the driers can dry it completely for ironing at a later time. Mrs. Sellers also will offer a cash and carry dry cleaning service and a special "bachelor's bundles" service. Men living alone can leave their wash at the laundry in the morning and pick it up in the afternoon completely washed and ironed. Both Sechler and Mrs. Sellers are offering same-day service to housewives whose husbands can drop off the laundry on their way to work and pick it up again on their way home.

OUTSTANDING — Who'd you pick as the most prominent women of America? Coronet picked 12 of them. See if you agree. Katharine Cornell, first lady of the theater; Lily Dache, queen of hat designers; Elizabeth Arden, cosmetician and business woman; Marian Anderson, famous concert singer; Eleanor Roosevelt, stateswoman; Clare Boothe Luce, playwright and former congresswoman; Dorothy Draper, interior decorator; Beatrice Lillie, comedienne; Martha Graham, dancer; Barbara Ann Scott, queen of the ice; Lily Pons, coloratura star of the Metropolitan opera company, and Sister Elizabeth Kenny, humanitarian.

SWITCHER — Eighty percent of

New York's swankiest bars substitute cheaper liquor than the brand ordered by the customer, an investigation by Cosmopolitan magazine reveals. "The investigators discovered that some of the plushiest places are just as likely to cheat the customer by substituting a different brand of liquor as the most ordinary run-of-the-mill cafe," an article in Cosmopolitan declares. Women especially are easy prey for chandeliers bartenders, according to the article, which quotes a bartender as saying: "There's not a woman in a dozen who knows what a good drink is supposed to taste like. We substitute in their drinks all the time, particularly in the sweet, mixed drinks like the Tom Collins; they never notice it."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

BEFORE birth there are a good many bodily structures necessary to the developing child which have no function once the baby begins to live an independent life. One of these known as the Meckel diverticulum, connects the navel with the intestine. In most people it disappears during babyhood, but in about one out of 100 persons, it remains as an outpouching of the intestine and is then known as Meckel's diverticulum.

Once in awhile this little remnant of an earlier stage of life may produce certain disorders. It may press on a loop of the bowel or cause actual twisting of the bowel. In either case, blocking of the intestine results. Of course, when this happens the symptoms such as fever, vomiting, and swelling of the abdomen, and pain, are severe. Operation is required to relieve the disorder and the earlier it is done the better is the outlook for the patient.

Sometimes Meckel's diverticulum becomes inflamed and may actually rupture. In these cases, the symptoms are much like those of appendicitis, with pain in the lower, right part of the abdomen; there may also be fever and vomiting. Operation is required in these cases, also. At times, a bit of hard material may become fast to a loop of intestine, causing much the same sort of symptoms as are found when a foreign material gets fastened in the appendix.

Often the Meckel's diverticulum can be shown in an X-ray examination. There are some who believe that whenever an operation is done on the abdomen and a Meckel's diverticulum is found, it should be removed in order to keep it from causing trouble in the future. Meckel's diverticulum never causes a chronic condition, that is, one which continues over a long period of time, but it seems to be responsible for an acute or sudden pain in the abdomen in a number of cases.

It is quite difficult to determine before operation whether or not an abdominal disorder is due to a disturbance of Meckel's diverticulum. However, when an operation is carried out for some undiagnosed disorder within the abdomen, a careful search should be made for Meckel's diverticulum to determine whether it could possibly be the source of the difficulty.

Editor, The Mercury, Dear Sir 'n' Brother: Wal, I see by the papers where an 85-year-old man has enrolled in a New Jersey college. A bit on the aged side for athletics, but I'll bet he gives his school more publicity than a subsidized star fullback.

Rep. Thomas Refuses To Testify Before Federal Grand Jury

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), who had demanded the right to appear before a Federal grand jury investigating alleged irregularities in his Congressional payroll, today refused to testify.

Rep. Thomas

The New Jersey legislator, in previously "insisting" on the right to be heard, had specified that he should not appear until after the Nov. 2 election.

On advice of his counsel, however, Thomas "reluctantly" declined to testify today in his five-minute appearance before the grand jury.

His attorney, William H. Collins, handed newsmen a statement saying that "no useful purpose from his viewpoint" would be served by having Thomas testify.

Thomas, who was re-elected Tuesday, is the retiring chairman of the House committee on un-American activities. Like all other Republican chairmen of congressional committees, he will give way to a Democrat when the Democratic majority takes over control of the House on Jan. 3.

Thomas' refusal to testify recalled the tactics employed by several witnesses before his House committee who declined on Constitutional grounds to say whether they had Communist ties.

The investigation into Thomas' staff payroll began the past month at the request of the Justice department, which acted on a petition signed by 16 attorneys from Thomas' home district in New Jersey.

Assistant Attorney General Alex Campbell told newsmen the government has completed its case before the grand jury. He said he does not expect any action until next Monday at the earliest.

It will be up to the jury, he said, to ignore the charges or to indict Thomas.

Noted Professor Says Europe Still Groping for Security

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4 (P)—A noted University of Chicago professor said today that Europeans have not yet come out of what he calls a sort of 100-year groping for security.

Bernard Schmitt, who is a special advisor to the State department's division of historical policy research, spoke at the Fall general meeting of the American Philosophical society, oldest organization for scholars in the country.

Schmitt pointed out that a revolutionary upheaval hit France, England, Russia, Austria and other European countries in the period of 1848 to 1850.

Not since that time, he said, has a satisfactory system been devised which gives recognition to one hand to democratic and national aspirations and on the other hand provides economic foundation.

THE SPEAKER SAID that the apparent reluctance of the people of France to turn over the French government to General Charles de Gaulle, the war hero, is based on a "fear of repetition" of the coup of President Louis Napoleon.

Schmitt pointed out that Louis Napoleon had such sharp powers that it proved easy for him to suppress the republic and then the empire.

Turning to a discussion of Communism, Schmitt said the manifesto of Karl Marx exerted "no influence on the revolutionary upheavals," but that in later years it "became the bible of Socialists everywhere."

"In the Europe of 1948," Schmitt said, "the essential conflict is between the rights of man (by Thomas Paine) of 1789 and the Communist Manifesto."

THE BOOK, WRITTEN by the American revolutionary, is an expression of the doctrines of free enterprise and free thinking.

In a discussion of the influences of the 1848-50 revolutions on this nation, Merle Curtiss of the University of Wisconsin, had this to say:

"The migration of a large number of intellectual refugees of the Revolution influenced American thought in the spheres of military science, esthetics, education, and social philosophy."

"Both nativism and internationalism were strengthened by the presence of these refugees. It was also refugees from the reaction in Europe who introduced Marxism into the United States."

In another address, Marius Barbeau, anthropologist and folklorist of the National Museum of Canada, said that a definite program of the Canadian government has saved

Sees No Repeal

Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ) (above), co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor law said yesterday in Charlotte, N. C., that he believes the law will not be repealed by the new 81st Congress. Hartley, whose term expired, did not seek re-election.

These he identified as the Huron and Wyandot tongues, first heard in 1535. He said these were the oldest North American languages on record.

Dewey's Defeat Puts Duff in Control of State Republicans

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4 (P)—The undisputed leadership of Pennsylvania Republicans was again safe in Gov. James H. Duff's pocket today. Surprise results of Tuesday's presidential election unexpectedly turned the trick. It kept with him control of all party patronage available to the Keystone State Republicans. And jobs are the meat on the bones of politics.

It came about as President Truman's triumph over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey which quashed the possibility of 100,000 Federal jobs in Pennsylvania going to Republicans. And with that result went hopes by the Martin-Grundy faction to displace Duff from control of the party. That group's idea of Federal jobs was the nucleus for the support of U. S. Senator Edward Martin and former U. S. Senator Joseph Grundy for Dewey at the GOP national convention the past June.

Duff split with Martin and Grundy on the New York governor's nomination and lost out in fight to nominate U. S. Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

That setback set off speculation that Duff's 1949 legislative program would be endangered by recalcitrant Republicans in the House and Senate who belonged to the Martin-Grundy camp.

BUT DEWEY'S LOSS Tuesday changed the picture. The governor continues in control of some 50,000 State jobs enhanced by others covered up by the defeat of Democratic incumbents in the auditor general's office and the treasury. Pennsylvania's Federal jobs remain Democrat-controlled for another four years. The Martin-Grundy faction can only turn to Duff for its patronage.

Meanwhile, the governor had a comfortable majority in both chambers of the legislature to assure passage of his program. The only possible barrier is a combination of Democrats and renegade Republicans.

That possibility loomed almost immediately with a statement by a Democratic house leader that the minority will try to put a provision of "no pay for politics" into grants to Pennsylvania colleges and universities.

Rep. Hiram G. Andrews (D-Cambria) criticized Harold E. Stassen, new president of the University of Pennsylvania, and Robert L. Johnson, head of Temple university, for active campaigning for Dewey. Appropriation bills to the universities which also include money to pay the salary of the president and other officials, require a two-thirds vote of the legislature.

Truck Driver Traps 2 Escaped Convicts

LISBON, O., Nov. 4 (P)—Two convicts who tunneled to freedom Monday from the Western penitentiary in Pittsburgh, tonight were back in cells. They were captured early today after commandeering a truck whose driver finished them into the hands of a rookie police officer.

Andrew Lee White, 27, Pittsburgh, and Eugene West, 28, Somerset county, gave up without a struggle and readily admitted their identity to Sheriff George Hayes of Columbiana county.

A third convict who took part in the jail break, Julius Ralph Wynn, 23, of Washington, Pa., was retaken Tuesday at the home of a cousin near Washington.

When trucker John Marden Kennington, O., stopped on Route 30 16 miles west of Lisbon, West and White jumped into his truck, waving a hunting knife. Marden obeyed instructions to drive toward Pittsburgh but in Lisbon succeeded in attracting the attention of Traffic Patrolman Leon Garnt who flagged the truck to a stop for speeding.

Marden jumped out and told the officer what had happened. Garnt pulled his revolver and took the men into custody.

The three convicts burrowed their way to freedom through a 35-foot tunnel from the prison boiler room to a street outside the wall.

West had been serving a 9-18 year sentence on burglary charges and White was serving a 15-20 year term for robbery. Wynn was in the penitentiary for from two-to-four years for burglary.

German Exports Highest Since Start of Occupation

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 4 (P)—Exports from bizonal Germany in September hit the highest figure since the start of the occupation.

The Anglo-American Export-Import agency said total deliveries reached $61,000,000 compared with $58,000,000 in August.

Exports for the first three quarters of 1948 totalled $397,000,000.

Coal exports for the first three quarters totalled $200,400,000 or 50 percent of the total exports.

The agency noted in its monthly report that the exports of German textiles and textile products "have assumed leading importance with a value of $29,800,000 for the first three quarters."

Rotary Club Hears State Official Tell Of FFA Work, Aims

V. A. Martin, assistant director of vocational agriculture of the State Department of Public Instruction, last night described the organization and aims of the Future Farmers of America to members of the Pottstown Rotary club, meeting in the Sanatoga Grange hall.

The FFA was organized more than 20 years ago, Martin declared, by a vocational agriculture teacher and several of his students in Virginia.

Nationally, there now are over 300,000 active members, he declared, with 300 chapters in Pennsylvania.

Its aims he described as "developing agriculture leadership, developing citizenship and the principles of community and co-operative education."

"Its basic aim is to motivate and vitalize instruction in vocational agriculture," Martin said.

GUESTS OF THE club last night included 22 boys of the Coventry chapter, with their advisor, Neal Burner, instructor in agriculture at the North Coventry Senior High school, and 20 boys of the Boyertown chapter, with their advisor, Ralph DeTurk, agriculture instructor in the Boyertown schools.

Clyde Jackson, former Norco instructor and now Chester county advisor for vocational agriculture work, also was present at the meeting.

Ralph Shaner, of Amityville, presented the speaker.

Shaner, a Norco graduate, now operates a 125-acre farm near Amityville.

A leading FFA member, he will be presented with that organization's highest award at the 20th national convention, to be held in Kansas City, Mo., during the week of Nov. 15.

Carl Dunmire, chairman of the rural service committee, was program chairman last night, while Rotary President E. Ernest Kulp was in charge of the meeting.

Sixty-five Rotarians were present.

'Sensational' New Tank Developed by U. S. Army

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — The Army said tonight it has a "sensational new tank," the M46.

The Army's description of the M46 "General Patton" tank indicated it is an improved version of the present standard M26 medium tank. More power will increase the speed 50 percent over the M26 model or to 30 miles an hour, the announcement said.

Instead of the pedals and other complicated controls of older models, the M46 is guided by a "wobble stick," something like the control for a light airplane. Armament includes a 90-millimeter gun firing high-velocity, armor-piercing shells.

County Splits 50-50 On Ballots for Sheriff

POTT ORCHARD, Wash., Nov. 4.—Sheriff Pete Henderson got 51-51 votes from Kittap county folks who thought he should remain in office.

Exactly the same number figured the job needed new blood and voted for Republican challenger Dean Jones.

The deadlock turned up when the last ballot was tallied in the unofficial canvass of all the county's 130 precincts. Absentee ballots will be relied upon to settle the issue.

DARDEN GIVEN —

shot to scare them. I didn't know I had shot anyone."

He said he shot downward toward the ground.

MRS. MAXINE MOSS, 21, of 160 Grant street, Pottstown, testified she was in the bathroom and saw Brown knock over the beer glass "accidentally." Beer splashed over the table and some went on Darden's trousers, she said. An argument ensued.

Arthur Ware, who lives at the hotel, said he saw Brown strike Darden and saw Darden run from the hotel, followed by Brown and the crowd. He saw bottles being thrown.

Burdan said he was outside when the argument started and he entered the room only to be struck on the head by a bottle. He saw Brown and Darden scuffling and saw a bottle hit Darden. He saw them run out and heard a shot. Later he saw Brown stepping over as though struck by a shot and he tried to place Darden under the bed.

In cross-examination of Burdan, the attorney for the defense tried to bring out a concession that the Pottstown group resented strangers in their midst at times and would "gang up" on them.

Darden's wife, Eleanor, and his father, Robert, testified that Darden was obedient and law abiding. He is employed by a Spring City hosiery firm.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown, of 56 Sheridan street. He had been employed by the uncle, James Williams, Pottstown contractor. Brown was a World War II veteran and a former football player at Pottstown High school.

Darden will serve his sentence in Montgomery County prison.

FIRE COMPANIES —

to the Montgomery County Firemen's association.

At the meeting the company formed a "touring club," which will attend the State convention next year in the first week of October at Greensburg. To date 25 members have signed for the club.

The committee in charge of the club is Romich, chairman; Alfred Felsh, secretary, and Orr, treasurer.

G. HENRY SCHMOYER, was nominated unopposed to his third term as president of the Phillies.

The remainder of the officers, except delegates and board members, were renominated without opposition. The only exception was Lloyd Lafferty, vice presidential nominee, who was named to the office to replace Victor Wegley, nominated fire chief. Lafferty held the vice presidential post three years ago, however.

The nominations marked the first time in company annals when the fire chief was nominated by the membership rather than appointed by the president.

BESIDES THOSE mentioned above, officers nominated were: Walter Swavely, secretary; Norman Blasing, treasurer; Ralph Berger, financial secretary; Curtis B. Myers, trustee; Leonard Mauger, board of engineers; William L. Pirth, delegate to the Pottstown Firemen's Relief association, and Charles Ulrich, assistant fire chief.

COUNCIL DINES —

licans who lashed out savagely at each other for 30 these many months before and right up to the election.

The same Democrats who palled around with the union members.

The same Democrats who went into CIO hall Monday and Tuesday and pulled the Political Action committee members on the back, and told them what great friends of labor the local Demos were, and he sure to get out the vote, boys!

These politicians who winked at party lines when the public gaze was alleged to be somewhere else, then sat down and discussed how to break a borough union before it got started.

TRUE, SOME members of council are staunch union members themselves, who were genuinely sympathetic to the formation of a union of borough highway and water department workers.

But others, behind what they thought was the safety of a hush-hush meeting and the protection of a private dining room, let their hair down and made suggestions that they never would have dared to make openly.

One suggested that ALL borough hourly workers be fired.

Now.

Then they wouldn't have to worry about a union, this councilman thought.

Others thought of the good old days, when borough highway workers were older men, who would take any job that came along and never think of complaining of low wages or insecurity.

They deplored the fact that for the past two years the borough virtually has gone into the contracting business, hiring dozens of men and buying expensive, complicated equipment, to take care of the necessary highway and sewer work occasioned by the growth of the borough.

SOMEONE SAID that W. Earl Pottelger, highway superintendent, wanted to join the union for security, although, since he is a salaried employee, it was impossible for him to join, as far as they knew.

Mention of Pottelger caused several councilmen to mumble in their linen napkins and talk directly of the possible fate of the highway superintendent.

Finally, they came to the conclusion that the majority of the borough employees had joined the union already — the United Construction workers, an affiliate of the United Mine Workers and District 50 (AFL), and that it would be nearly impossible to avoid a State Labor board election if the workers asked for it.

So they all went home again.

They had had a good meal, and they were happy.

Once again they had kept the public ignorant of what they were up to — for exactly 24 hours!

by the President, and reported by Press Secretary Charles G. Ross as having been cleared with the State department, was the source of one difference.

Lovett's press conference reaction did not jibe entirely with his view in the opinion of some of the President's associates.

The President received a banknote on the First National Bank of Independence for ten dollars and said the gentleman who gave it to me told me that if I ever went broke, he would redeem it.

"They tell me that Vincennes (Indiana) went exactly right," he added. "It was a great victory, my friends, for the people," he went on, "we must not do anything that will reflect on the judgment of the people—so when we get back to Washington and are shown in on the 20th of January, we will just continue to work for the people and in the interests of country."

Engineers to Begin Drafting Port Plans

Planning of the runways for the Pottstown Municipal airport will begin this week, Borough Manager Dow L. Sears reported yesterday.

The Harrisburg engineering firm of Gannett, Fleming, Cordery and Carpenter wrote to Sears, "We will start this work on your job this week and push it as hard as we can."

After the plans and specifications for the airport have been made, including the two runways, one 2600 feet and the other 2200 feet long, and each 300 feet wide, the borough will advertise for bids for construction.

Sears also received the contract between the borough and the Pennsylvania Aeronautics commission, for his signature.

The contract specified the amount to be paid by the State—$18,000, of the total $72,000 construction costs—and outlined procedure for approval of construction contracts and payment of the bills.

TRUMAN BETTOR —

He. Passing motorists didn't seem to mind the obstacle, but broke into grins when they saw the two-man parade.

Seated on a throne-like structure at the rear of the ribbon-draped little wagon, Guadagno was every pound a king, nodding grandly and giving his big cigar a lordly flourish as groups of residents applauded at intersections.

THE WINNER WORK on his back a huge color picture of Truman sitting at his White House desk, and carried an 1871 firemen's silk hat decked in green silk ribbon.

Wojack, too, was dressed for the occasion. There was a campaign poster of Dewey across his back and in his hip pocket a large "crying towel."

In case anyone might have had trouble seeing the colorful parade, the wagon was lit by two red flares. Music furnished by Berry's sound car, consisted of one appropriate tune.

"I'm looking over a four-leaf clover that I overlooked before."

The wagon was loaned by the VanBuskirk Hardware store. "Donated" would be a better word, for after Guadagno lifted his 300 pounds from the wagon at Charlotte street, all four wheels were as far out of line as the postlers' predictions.

Wojack's campaign manager was Harold H. Wentzel, while Robert Roth, company chief, handled the winner's deportment.

After the parade the winner presented the loser with a big basket of flowers. They were decidedly frost-bitten.

PENN VILLAGE —

purpose, to provide low cost housing for low income groups living in sub-standard homes. It was thrown open to war workers during the war, he added, but now they must leave if they are above the income limits.

"How many of these being evicted were over the limit when they entered?" Harold Binder, chairman of the Citizens Housing committee, asked.

"About 80 percent," Edmund J. Koser, executive secretary of the Montgomery County Housing authority, replied.

"Then they knew they were taking the apartments on a temporary basis," Binder declared.

C. ROY BUSH, president of borough council, said he believed the families could find homes in Pottstown. He suggested that the Penn Village committee of borough council headed by Gerald J. Daly, Ninth ward councilman, press its investigation through their employers to find homes for the evictees.

The new schedule of income levels is based upon an average weekly wage of $52.50. Mrs. Howard explained. It sets the limit for an average family of four or five persons at $2700 per year for continued occupancy in Penn Village.

The lower limit of the schedule sets the income level for a family of two or three persons at $2500 per year, while its upper limit is set at $3100 for a family of eight or more.

DISABLED VETERANS receiving a pension, and survivors of war dead receiving death benefits, receive special consideration under a new ruling. Disability pensions and death benefits are excluded from the total anticipated incomes for the purpose of notification of eviction, she pointed out.

Under this ruling, money received for disabilities or for deaths is not included in the family's income. A family receiving such benefits, which previously were included, will not be evicted until the earned income exceeds the income limits set in the schedules.

The meeting was opened by Burgess William A. Griffith who said he recognized the housing shortage in Pottstown, particularly low rent housing in the brackets which the Penn Village families can afford.

Allen K. Davidheiser, chairman of the borough housing committee, told the group it is impossible for contractors to build low rental housing without sinking much of their capital into a project.

"We are not bankers," he declared.

He said if rental housing was built at the present time, it would be necessary to charge rents of $80 to $125 per month.

Five members of the tenants' association attended the meeting, including Allen D. H. Field, president. Most of them protested the fact that they could move to Hilldale, but Field said, if necessary, he would accept such an offer. They felt that eviction at this time would merely force them back into sub-standard homes which the housing authority is attempting to eliminate.

TRACTOR MISHAP —

the flaming tractor, pulled the boy from beneath it and tore his burning clothes from his body. He then rushed him to Memorial hospital.

Dr. S. Russell Ash, Pottstown physician, said last night that the youth had died approximately 35 percent of the body area burned.

He was treated immediately for third-degree burns and for severe shock.

GEORGE M. FRITZ, Roversford RD 1 farmer for whom Leon had been working and driving the tractor, could not explain the cause of the accident.

At the time, he said he had not had any previous trouble with the machine, and that the stretch of road where the accident occurred was not bumpy enough to turn it over.

The tractor was nearly a total loss, he declared.

IN ADDITION to his parents, young Meyers is survived by a step-brother, Floyd Wagner, of Aberdeen, Md., a step-sister, Miss Frances Wagner, of Pottstown RD; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Mervin Moore, of Philadelphia; Anna, Beatrice and Clarence, of Schenckville, and Ruth, Geradine, Benjamin Jr. and Paul, at home.

Services will be held from a funeral home at 21 Main street, Trappe, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, officiating.

Interment will be in Schenckville cemetery.

HOSPITAL GIVEN —

Wylie drifted into conversation about the hospital and its needs.

"I had absolutely no idea of making a strike on him," the administrator said later. They parted with no mention or even hint of a donation.

Next morning in Wylie's mail was a check for $750 the cost of the table.

THE MOBILE TABLE has electrically-heated food compartments and a place where plates may be kept hot.

There are six eight-quart containers and three four-quart spaces. The apparatus heats up by plugging it in 20 minutes before serving. Trays are carried on another car.

Food will be brought to the patient's door where plates will be put on his tray and he will be served with piping hot servings.

As it is now, Wylie explained, trays are carried through long corridors and up elevators. Food is lukewarm many times when it reaches the patient.

Next on the administrator's list is a $450 restaurant-size all-purpose mixer machine.

ties remained non-committal on the predictability issue.

Wilbur O. Cressman, a fund of local folk, here admitted the bear notion had been around for some time but shrugged it.

Others he dismissed were that severity of winter may be forecast by the thickness, texture and shape of goose bones and the heaviness of squirrel fur.

GEORGE WHITELEY, science instructor at The Hill school, whose special interest is bugs, confessed ignorance of the legend but indicated he would check the bear's habits.

The woolly bear in the caterpillar of the tiger moth, Pyrrharctia isabella. It is about two inches long, black at both ends and brown in the middle.

The caterpillar is usually seen in the Fall, when he wanders around looking for a cozy haven for cocoon building.

Once inside the log or under a stone, the caterpillar pulls out his luxuriant growth of fuzz and builds the cocoon with it.

After a winter in the pupal state, he emerges in Spring as a tiger moth.

Court Begins Reading Of Verdict Against Former Jap Premier

TOKYO, Nov. 4 (P)—After 29 months the international military tribunal began today the marathon reading of its 300,000 word verdict in the war crimes trial of Hideo Tojo and 24 other former leaders of Japan.

The first phase of the judgment, covering 1931-37, held Japan was guilty of preparing and waging aggressive war.

It may be more than a week before the 11-nation court reaches the section of top popular interest.

The individual verdicts of former Premier Tojo and his co-defendants. Defense attorneys said privately, however, on the basis of the first material read, every one of the defendants probably could be convicted of something.

TOJO CONTENDED in his defense Japan prepared for and waged war for "national defense." Thus the court promptly tossed out the window.

The presiding justice, Sir William Webb of Australia, said he planned to read the entire 300,000-word judgment personally if his voice held out. He hoped to finish by Saturday, Nov. 13, taking Sunday off.

It was indicated R. B. Pal, the justice for India, and possibly two other members, might file dissenting opinions. These were not to be read but merely to be handed to the clerk after the conclusion of the majority decision.

Pal was said to disagree strongly with views of the other justices. The two others who may dissent were said to differ only on lesser issues and might decide not to file their objections.

'You Can Get Away With Murder,' Says AMA Journal Citing Coroners' Failings

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (P)—To the axiom, "You can get away with murder," the American Medical Association replies: "Several thousand do each year."

And it puts full blame on the coroners' offices in most cases.

It is simply that coroners' offices often don't recognize a murder when they see one, the Journal of the AMA said in an editorial.

"In most states, the coroner's office is so incompetent in the acquisition and interpretation of medical facts that only when murders have been witnessed or when bodies bear wounds regarded as being obviously homicidal are the deaths likely to be reported as murders," the Journal said.

The Journal made these points: One death of each five in the United States—approximately 300,000 each year—is known or suspected to have resulted from violence or occurred unexpectedly from obscure causes. In this great pool, 13,000 murders are officially recognized.

"IN REGIONS where competent medical investigations of such deaths are conducted, in 10 percent to 20 percent of all murders, the crime appears to be unexpressed and the body does not display external wounds that can be regarded as indicative of homicide," the Journal said.

"With reasonable certainty it may be said that several thousands of murders pass unrecognized each year in the United States because of the absence of a competent agency for the acquisition of medicolegal information."

The Journal said rights of those persons unjustly accused of murder also were sometimes endangered by the functions of "the arcane office of county coroners."

IT RECOMMENDED establishment of medical examiner systems—a practice adopted by a few states. These systems are headed by a pathologist and staffed with physicians within the state serving on a part-time basis.

Justice, said the Journal, "can tolerate neither ignorance nor charlatanism."

Bookies Take Drubbing On Presidential Betting

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4 (P)—The nation's bookmakers took a drubbing: Truman's victory at the polls as one of the greatest getting upsets in history and most of them ate bitter fruit from signing payoff checks, a nationally known betting commissioner said today.

"There has been a great loss by almost everybody who accepted bets on the presidential race at the prevailing odds," said James J. Carroll, the commissioner.

"There was a lot of Truman money. The very fact there was such a large volume of Truman money indicated a lot of people believed the polls were haywire."

West Coast Newspapers Raise Price to 7 Cents

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4 (P)—Two of San Francisco's four daily newspapers today announced a price increase of from 5 to 7 cents for single copies effective Nov. 8.

The Chronicle, a morning newspaper, first announced the raise, followed by the afternoon Call-Bulletin.

Constantly rising production and materials costs were cited for the increase.

There was no immediate announcement of a similar increase by the Examiner, a morning paper, or the News, an afternoon publication. Executives of the papers said, however, that the matter was under consideration.

Some Los Angeles newspapers announced the two cent increase.

Russia Asks Bans On Japan's Industry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (P)—Russia renewed today a proposal for international controls to prevent revival of Japan's war industry.

Russian Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin called on the 11-nation Far Eastern commission to consider the proposal, first submitted Sept. 23. He said Russia "naturally" is ready to discuss other proposals on the issue of dividing Japanese industry according to peace and war purposes.

The Soviet proposal calls for controls for several years "to be exercised by the powers most interested in preventing a new Japanese aggression." This presumably would include Russia.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as supreme allied commander now has responsibility for demilitarizing Japan. He has declared the process to be substantially completed.

AEC Head Says U. S. Exploring New Developments in Atom Field

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 4 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal disclosed tonight that important new developments in atomic energy are being explored.

The Atomic Energy commission chairman, in a talk before the Iowa State Education association, did not give details. However, he said:

"In Iowa itself there is direct commission work going on. At Ames, the Iowa State college, under the leadership of Dr. Frank R. Spedding, vital exploration of the characteristics of certain materials that have suddenly become important to the national welfare and safety is being carried on."

This Iowa work, he said, is only part of a vast program to maintain United States leadership in atomic developments. He mentioned spies as one of the problems involved. Discussing the importance of acquainting school children and adults with atomic matters, Lilienthal told the Iowa educators:

"WE IN THIS country are engaged upon a program to create an atomic energy enterprise so large, so well staffed and managed, aided by such great industries and great universities, that the United States of America will not only continue to lead but will establish unquestioned and unchallenged superiority. We mean superiority in all aspects of this field, not only in weapons but in basic science, agriculture, industry, power, nutrition and in all the other fields which this new field of knowledge touches."

"This is indeed, the largest single undertaking of this character in the history of the world."

"Geographically, this undertaking goes on in almost all the states of the union and all over the world."

Chinese Massing Troops To Meet Red Advance

NANKING, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Chinese government was marshaling its best remaining frontline forces in Central China today to block any Communist drive south toward the Yangtze river.

Key to the situation was Suichow, major government base only 170 miles north of this capital.

It was estimated that more than 400,000 government troops were massed in that general area. These were described as mediocre but the best remaining to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek after the Communist victories in Manchuria and North China in the past month.

(The Communist radio, meanwhile, reported capture of Yingkow, South Manchurian escape port, and destruction of a government division there. The broadcast, heard in San Francisco, said Yingkow fell Tuesday and that a government transport and a score of junks were sunk by Communist artillery as they sought to flee.)

A GOVERNMENT MILITARY spokesman said he had no confirmation of reports that Yingkow had fallen. If true, the last escape route has been cut to Hulutao, the government's other port in China.

The spokesman said the garrison of Communist-captured Mukden had been "evacuated according to plan" but declined to say how many men escaped. Most independent reports said the bulk of the Mukden garrison (possibly 100,000 men) was captured after a brief fight.

A press report that the government had abandoned a strong point only 90 miles west of Suichow was denied by the spokesman.

Stock Market Gains After Election Losses

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—The stock market staged a partial recovery today of its severe post-election losses.

The come-back was fast and sharp for a considerable portion of the trading period with large blocks of stocks changing hands.

The gains of a few cents to around $2 a share among the leading issues held fast most of the day, but in late trading some of them fell away from their highest levels. The steel group, and particularly U. S. Steel, showed this weakness.

4 AIR CRASHES TAKE 32 LIVES

Total of 49 Missing As Five Planes Are Reported to Be Lost

By The Associated Press

The loss of nine airplanes within the past two days accounted last night for 32 dead and 49 missing. All those killed and 20 of those missing were the victims of crashed or lost U. S. military planes.

One was a giant B29 bomber which tore into a mountain in England Wednesday killing 13. A second superfortress crashed the same day shortly after taking off in the Azores, killing 18. One person is missing and another was injured in the Azores crash.

A Navy long-range bomber with at least seven aboard was reported missing off the coast of the state of Washington. Military headquarters said "either seven or nine men" were aboard.

A Navy patrol plane carrying 12 men was reported lost in the Aleutian area Wednesday night.

A PACIFIC ALASKA airlines transport with 11 persons aboard was reported missing on a flight from Yakutat, Alaska, to Annette island.

The French press agency said in Paris a French military transport with 15 aboard was missing in Indo-China on a flight from France to the Far East.

An American jet fighter crashed and burned in the center of the German resort town of Garmisch, killing the pilot.

Another U. S. fighter, an F47, struck a tree while landing near Neuburg, Germany. The pilot was slightly hurt.

Ordered to Withdraw

Israeli troops are shown in advance positions in the Negev section from which they were ordered yesterday by the United Nations to withdraw.

U. N. Asks Jews to Give Up Offensive Gains in Negev Area

PARIS, Nov. 4 (AP)—The United Nations Security council tonight called on Israel to withdraw from positions won in the recent offensive against the Egyptians in the Palestine desert.

The action was taken after the council approved an American request to eliminate the threat of sanctions.

A resolution calling on Israel to withdraw was passed nine to one. Russia abstained and the Ukraine voted against.

An American amendment stripping the resolution of its threat of sanctions was adopted without debate. It was offered by Dr. Philip C. Jessup.

THE RESOLUTION, SPONSORED by Britain and China, asked for withdrawal in the Southern desert by both Israeli and Arab forces to positions held on Oct. 14.

This would apply mainly to Israeli troops who launched an offensive on that day which pushed Egyptian forces back in the Southern Negev.

After the resolution was

Top Advisors Say Dewey's Defeat Caused By Refusal to 'Slug It Out' With Truman

Possibility Arises Of Democratic-GOP Coalition in House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—The top-heavy control of Congress given the Democrats in Tuesday's elections raised the possibility today of a renewal in the House of the Republican-Southern Democrat coalition.

It was this coalition that ruled the roost in the House during the latter days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration and the early part of President Truman's regime, despite numerical Democratic superiority.

And it was on the rocks of its opposition that many of the Roosevelt-Truman legislative proposals were lost. Some of these same proposals almost certainly will be submitted by President Truman to the new Congress when it convenes in January.

TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS gave the Democrats control of the Senate by a 54 to 42 count and established them in the House by a margin of close to 100 seats. With five contests still undecided, the actual House lineup for the 81st Congress is 261 Democrats, 168 Republicans and 1 American-Laborite.

But in the 78th and 79th Congresses the Democrats were almost as strongly entrenched in the House. Whether the coalition will be renewed in the 81st Congress will depend on the nature of the Democrats' program.

If the President calls again for civil rights legislation to prevent racial discrimination, and he is expected to do so, Southern Democrats who bolted the party during the presidential campaign almost certainly will try to get help from the Republican minority.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Some of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's top advisors urged him from the start to wage the slugging kind of campaign that helped elect President Truman. They thought it would be a grave mistake to do anything else.

But they were over-ridden by a majority of the "Dewey team," including the defeated Republican candidate himself, who favored a "high level" campaign based on a "unite America" theme.

None of the minority group is saying now that the stunning outcome of the election can be laid entirely to that decision.

But they all believe it was a big factor. And what does Dewey think? he says.

"We waged a clean, constructive campaign and I have no regrets whatsoever."

THAT DOES NOT necessarily mean he would not go about it differently if he had it to do over again.

What was behind his decision to concentrate on such things as "the dignity of man" and the "glorious future of America" while his Democratic opponent was talking about the Republican "gluttons of privilege" and the "idiot" 80th Congress?

Essentially, it was a decision born of complete confidence that Dewey's election could be taken for granted.

The reasoning was that Dewey did not have to slug this time—at least not very hard.

It was a strategy deliberately copied from the 1944 campaign of the late President Roosevelt.

Then, Mr. Roosevelt's tactics were largely to ignore Dewey, his opponent.

The polls, as the campaign went on, convinced Dewey that his strategy was right.

Senator Ellender Predicts Passage Of Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — A forecast that the new Democratic Congress will give prompt attention to housing legislation was made today by Senator Ellender (D-La).

Ellender, re-elected Tuesday, is one of the authors of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill which failed to win approval of the 80th Congress.

Even before Democratic leaders had a chance to appear fully the potentialities of their new majorities in the Senate and House, Ellender cut loose with criticism of the Republicans for their stand on the housing bill.

He issued a statement through his office. He is expected to arrive here tomorrow.

He said that the "Republican high command" and GOP House leaders had "flatly refused" to allow Congress even to vote on an adequate housing program "to rid this nation of its slums and to bring decent homes within the reach of all American families."

ELLENDER SAID things will be different with the Democrats in charge. The measure will be "introduced, considered promptly and passed."

He attributed the Republican setback in part to failure of the GOP congress to pass what he termed an adequate housing program.

For several years, Ellender has teamed with Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Wagner (D-NY) in pushing the long-range housing bill. Twice this measure has been approved by the Senate, but House leaders have balked or delayed action. The bill was the cause of a wide rift between GOP House and Senate leaders. As a result, Ellender said, the only housing measure passed by the last Congress was a "token, wussy Republican housing bill."

Terming this a "half measure," Ellender said it "refused any assistance to those very groups within our population which are most urgently in need of help in order to secure a decent living environment."

ELLENDER'S NEW housing bill will include low rent public housing for low income families, slum clearance and farm housing.

Ellender noted that both President Truman and the 1948 Democratic platform had pledged a "comprehensive housing program" if victorious.

Ellender invited all senators, regardless of party affiliation, to join in sponsoring the bill.

In the past the legislation has included a ten-year program for building 15,000,000 homes at a rate of 1,500,000 each year. Federal grants would aid states, cities and local housing authorities on slum clearance and low rent and rural housing. These grants would begin at $60,000,000 a year and expand to $150,000,000 from the Treasury when the program got into full operation.

Test Donora Air for Death Clue

While Dr. Joseph Shilen, representing Pennsylvania state health department, watches the gauge, J. S. Sharrah adjusts the impinger to test the air in Donora, western Pennsylvania mill town in which 19 deaths have been laid to a smog. Because the greater part of the smog had been dissipated by the time a state health department team was able to get into action, Dr. Shilen, its leader, expressed doubt of success of the test.

2-Term Amendment Ratified by 21 States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — Twenty-one states have so far ratified the proposed constitutional amendment under which a President would be limited to two terms in office.

Before the amendment could become effective, at least 36 state legislatures must ratify the amendment.

They have seven years in which to act, counting back to 1947, when Congress approved the amendment.

Under it, no man could be elected President more than twice.

If a Vice President succeeded to the presidency, but didn't serve more than two years of his predecessor's unexpired term he could be elected to two full terms.

When the amendment was okayed by the Republican controlled House and Senate, a special exception was made in President Truman's case.

When elected to the Presidency again this week Mr. Truman had already served three years of President Roosevelt's unexpired term.

The exception made by Congress in approving the proposed constitutional amendment will permit Mr. Truman to run again in 1952 if he wishes.

5 Miners Dead in Fire; Asphyxiated by Smoke

KITZMILLER, Md., Nov. 4 (AP) — Five miners were asphyxiated by smoke blown into the George Nethen mine here today after the fan house caught fire.

They were identified as Clarence, Herman and Martin Keller, brothers, of Kitzmiller, Charles Kifer of Mt. Storm, W. Va., and Robert Jackson of Kitzmiller.

Constable Roy Sowers and Gerald Iman, president of the Kitzmiller Fire company, said the men had been working in the mine.

Cause of the fire in the fan house, a shed at the top of the mine housing the ventilating fan, was not determined.

The miners were pronounced dead at the scene. Iman said he did not know whether there were any survivors.

Guns Drawn, Fists Fly In Uruguayan Congress

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Nov. 4 (AP) — Guns were drawn and fists flew in congress today but there were no casualties.

Fernando Farina, minister of industry and commerce, charged the members of the Herreros Nacionalistas party — the government's chief opposition — tried to blame him for an error committed by the national packinghouse.

The error, he said, consisted of selling meat abroad obtained from Argentina on the promise it would be used domestically.

Insults were exchanged by Farina and Nationalist Deputy Francisco Gamlet. The latter drew a gun when Farina rushed at him. Other congressmen exchanged blows. Police halted the fighting.

Women Hear Philadelphia Author Speak At Annual Autumn YWCA Members Meeting

By MARY JANE FEGELY (Mercury Staff Writer)

"The only way to do something about the Negro 'problem' is to associate with the Negro in worship, social life and recreation," declared Dr. Fred Wentzel last night to members of the YWCA.

The slight and intense speaker was the president of Fellowship house in Philadelphia, and is editor-in-chief of Publications and author of "An Epistle to White Christians," a recently-published book.

He told his audience that Negroes were not a problem at all; it is the white man who is presenting the problem. Although he is a preacher, he rapped the church for its practice of segregation and also took a verbal swing at the YWCAs and YMCAs of America.

"Why in the name of common sense don't two Baptist churches, one representing a white congregation and the other a Negro congregation worship together?" he asked.

As for the "Y" associations, Dr. Wentzel expressed the opinion that the YWCA "was the worst of the two" but that the YWCA "was nothing to crow about." (The local YWCA later in the evening revealed that many fruitless efforts have been made and will continue to be made to include Negroes in its activities.)

IN SPEAKING of fellowship, Dr. Wentzel said, "Do with a Negro everything you would with a white man." He said that improvement along these lines have been made in Philadelphia since 1931, when not one single city restaurant, theater or hotel opened its doors to a Negro.

"The churches have remained at a standstill," he added.

"Practice what you preach," said the speaker, and he pointed out the recent Amsterdam conference where, he said, it was reported that Negroes and whites ate together and worshipped together.

"When they got back to America they all went their separate ways," he concluded.

At a panel discussion following the talk, the question of Negroes living in a white residential section of town was brought up.

"If we are to live up to our American democratic system, and if we are to be good Christians, we must insist that a man has the right to build a home anywhere he wants it, if he can afford it, regardless of color," answered the doctor.

HE CONCLUDED by advising the members to "be sure you are calling a man a bad man because he is a bad man, and call a man a bad neighbor because he is just that—not because he is Negro."

The invocation was given by the Rev. James D. Marchette, pastor of Searles Memorial Methodist church, and the speaker was introduced by Miss Dorothy Barkel. Miss Helen Purnell, president, presided over the meeting.

A nominating committee, appointed by the president, consisted of the following: Mrs. Charles Leppard, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Dotterer, Miss Dorothy Yohn, Mrs. George D. Robins and Mrs. Melvin Ferce, aides.

The minutes were read by Miss Elizabeth Ware and the auditor's report was given by Mrs. Thomas P. Storm Jr. Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Storm, chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buckwalter Plan Quiet Observance of Golden Anniversary

"Lucky, Lucky, Lucky," could be the theme song of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buckwalter, 963 High street, as they quietly observe their golden wedding anniversary today.

They have been extremely happy and lucky through the years with the "bride" not 70 and the "bridegroom," 75. Both are in good health with no "exceptions" or "buts."

Both work daily. Mr. Buckwalter is busily employed as a searcher for the Philadelphia Dry Cleaning company and his wife cheerfully doing all the housework, cleaning, cooking and baking for themselves and a brother-in-law, Mr. Elmer Fegley, with whom they reside.

Mr. Buckwalter was retired three years ago from his job as assistant to the farm superintendent at the Pennhurst State school where he had been employed for the previous 31 years. But he wouldn't stay retired long. He was back working in a few weeks.

THE COUPLE was married in the Parkerford Baptist parsonage by the late Rev. Alvin Johnstone, and went to the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buckwalter Sr., Honeybrook, for their honeymoon of three days. The next day they returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Rau, Parkerford, and the following day came to Pottstown to start housekeeping in a two room apartment at the corner of Chestnut and Charlotte streets.

At that time, he was a molder at March-Brownback's while she was helping her sister in Roverford. The couple remained in their apartment for three years before moving to their newly purchased home in Miller's Corner, near Parkerford, where they stayed till going to Pennhurst.

AS THE YEARS passed, they became the parents of two children, Edna, who is married to Mr. Paul Missimer, 534 Chestnut street, and Clair Buckwalter, Roverford, who is married to the former Miss Dorothy Camellia. Five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren complete the progeny.

The couple plan to observe the day quietly with no fanfare, awaiting the return of their grandson, Claire Buckwalter Jr., now serving in Italy with the US Army. He had been expected to return in time for the event with a large double celebration planned. A change in his orders will not permit him to arrive in time, but immediately after he does come, a first rate occasion is scheduled.

However, their day will be wonderful, the couple are certain. They have received innumerable cards, floral offerings and even a huge golden wedding anniversary cake.

Book Is Reviewed By Dr. M. J. Cohen At League Meeting

"Pathways Through the Bible," a religious book, was reviewed on Wednesday night by its author, Dr. Mortimer J. Cohen, before members of the Jewish Women's league in the Mercy and Truth synagogue.

Dr. Cohen is the Rabbi of Beth Shalom synagogue of Philadelphia, and was graduated from a theological seminary in New York.

He explained that the purpose of writing his book was to present Biblical characters in a "human" light. He has also tried to simplify everything about the Bible, thus, he believes, making it easy for all to read and understand.

The speaker was introduced by the program committee chairman, Mrs. Arthur Weizenkorn.

Mrs. Sol Berger, president, was in charge of the meeting at which it was announced that a Thanksgiving formal will be held on Thanksgiving eve, Mrs. Abe Pollock is in charge of the dance.

MRS. GERALD STEIN announced that a "summers sale" will be held on Dec. 6, 7 and 8; and the league women were informed that they would participate in the in-gathering of the Needlework guild by Mrs. Sidney Pollock, chairman of the Needlework guild committee.

Members were reminded that several classes in leadership training are being held in Harrisburg, and it was revealed that several members are attending. On Dec. 7, a businessmen's luncheon will be held in the vestry room of the church, Mrs. Amelia Estreicher is in charge.

A request was made by Mrs. Sam-

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Wrong Time to Use It
THERE IS a right time and a wrong time for everything in bridge. This truism is emphatically so in the case of the play called the "Bath coup," which is supposed to have been originated by whist players in that German resort town. It consists usually of refusing to play the ace from a holding of three or four cards headed by the ace-Jack when the player at the left had led the king from king-queen. A repeat of the suit will of course give the declarer two tricks in it. But this should almost never be attempted if a switch by the leader to some other suit could wreck the contract.

to drop four tricks in spades and be down one before he took a trick. Somebody should have warned South that as a general proposition the Bath coup should not be tried except when he could not be harmed unduly by a switch in lead. The ideal spot for it, of course, is when a change of lead also would be helpful, no matter what suit the leader selected. This was not one of those times, but the reverse.

South could have noted, upon study, that both clubs and diamonds might be finessed toward East. If a finesse in one of those suits lost, East's return could not damage him in spades, but only build up the K to a winner, no matter who had the A. In addition, the probability, from West's opening bid, was that either or both of those finesses would work. If South had won the first trick and then played the minors toward East he would have taken five tricks in diamonds, three in clubs and one in hearts to have his game without ever seeking a spade trick.

West made the natural lead of his heart K. South, who had only recently learned about the Bath coup, noted that it might give him two prompt tricks if he played low. So he put in the 2, expecting West to lead a second heart. But West decided to shift and try his spade Q. It takes no brilliancy to see what that did to South. It caused him

French Coal Output Up As Troops Break Strike

PARIS, Nov. 4 (AP)—Robert Lacoste, French industrial production minister, said today French coal output will be back to normal early next week.

The Communist-led mine strike is rapidly nearing an end, he declared in a broadcast.

Government sources said about one-third of the normal daily 180,000 tons of coal is now being dug, and troops have unloaded 100,000 tons of coal from ships tied up by a dockers strike.

Truman May Not Have Own Way With New Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Victorious Harry Truman marches back to Washington tomorrow to toss a 1948-model New Deal program at the next Congress.

Yet there was no complete assurance he would have his way completely with the new Congress which takes over Jan. 3.

Battered Republicans are sure to put up almost a solid front against his domestic program. For the most part, the same GOP leaders will be in control of party forces. Men like Robert Taft of Ohio and Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska in the Senate, Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts and Charles A. Halleck of Indiana in the House.

At his North Attleboro, Mass., home, Martin said he personally would be "glad to co-operate" with Mr. Truman "to solve our problems and build a stronger and better America."

HE SAID THE ELECTION outcome was a "sensational surprise" but "this is no hour for either sulking or reprisals."

But there could be trouble for the President from a congressional combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats. An alliance of that kind scuttled many a White House proposal in both the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Probably it wouldn't hold together on the hot civil rights issues—those measures proposed to curb racial segregation, lynching and poll taxes. Republicans generally have been pretty much for them.

But those were the issues that brought on a Southern rebellion, split the Democratic party, and swung 38 electoral votes of South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama to States' Rights Democratic candidate J. Strom Thurmond.

A SCORE OF DIXIE Senators would filibuster if the civil rights program ever got to the Senate floor.

But Mr. Truman is committed by campaign promises and his party platform to a civil rights program and to economic and social measures that go even beyond the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Secret Bolstering of French Army by U. S. Reported to Boost Western Allies' Might FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 4 sources declined to confirm the U. S. The United States has secretly bolstered three French divisions with new military equipment to help boost Western Europe's armed strength, unimpeachable sources said today.

These informants, who cannot be quoted by name, said the U. S. armed forces have "loaned" $5,000,000 worth of such equipment to the French.

This move was disclosed as Washington dispatches stated President Truman's foreign policy will be dominated now by the issue of how much the United States will give to bolster Western Europe's defense.

It came too on the heels of fresh reports that the Russians are building up a tank-equipped German army in their occupation zone.

The informants said the U. S. Army in Germany has been turning over equipment from reserve stocks and other equipment. The supplies include new tank motors, radios and all other materials necessary to put three divisions on a war footing.

Official French and U. S. Army built in the United States.

Commission Reports Decrease in Hunters

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4 (AP)—The State Game commission said today that 10 percent less hunters were afield during the first two days of the small game season than the past year.

Unfavorable weather may have played a major role in the drop-off in the two days, the commission said.

At the same time it disclosed that the two opening days passed without a single fatal accident. There were only 86 non-fatal accidents.

Ross L. Leffler, president of the Game commission, said the record was much better than the past year when three fatalities were listed on the first two days and 187 non-fatal accidents.

Thomas Frye, executive director of the commission, said the small game season thus far has shown no improvement in kill over 1947.

"We think it is just about the same," he stated.

He said that pheasants, squirrels, rabbits are generally more abundant this year. Turkeys also are plentiful, he said, while grouse appear to be sparse.

Stewart Maiden, Professor Of Championship Golf, Dies

ATLANTA, Nov. 4 (AP)—Stewart Maiden, the professor of championship golf, died in an Atlanta hospital today on the same floor where his former protege — Bobby Jones — lay ill.

"Kilbie, the King-Maker," the little Scot who spent thousands of hours showing Jones the way to swing and putt, suffered a stroke three weeks ago which left him paralyzed and unconscious.

He entered the hospital just a few days before Jones, who is improving after a neck operation.

In 1908 Maiden left Carnoustie, Scotland, and came to Atlanta where he took the club professional's job at East Lake. During the next 12 years he tutored several hundred Atlantians in the "royal and ancient" game. At least three of them used his swing to win between them nearly a hundred national and sectional golf championships.

HIS FIRST STUDENT was Miss Alexa Stirling, now living in Canada.

CHICK HARBERT STILL TIED FOR TOURNEY LEAD

Shares Lead With Clayton Haefner After 36 Holes With 141

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 4 (AP)—Good weather and consistent golf returned to Pinehurst today leaving two of the outstanding favorites tied for the lead in the 46th North and South Open Golf tournament.

And right behind them at the halfway mark of the tournament, which was running a day late because of Wednesday's heavy rains, were the players who figured to be the serious contenders and the first day flashes who slipped back.

Two steady, long driving veterans, Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., and Clayton Haefner of Charlotte, N. C., were tied for the lead after 36 holes with totals of 141.

A single stroke behind trailed consistent Claude Harmon of Marion, N. Y., Sammy Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., slugger, Joe Taylor of Bristol, Tenn., and Julius Boros, Little Bridgeport, Conn. amateur, had 143's and Glenn Teal of Charlotte was next at 144.

These were the players who were expected to fight it out in tomorrow's 36-hole final for the $1500 first prize money.

MEXICANS COP JUMPING HONORS AT HORSE SHOW

French and Canadian Army Teams No Match for 1948 Olympic Champions

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Mexican Army horses and riders won the military jumping prize at the National Horse show tonight, scoring their second triumph of the day with the same form that earned them the Prix Des Nations at the 1948 Olympics.

Their victory before 10,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden came in a relay event being staged for the first time in the 55-year-history of the show. The trophy was sponsored by Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, former president of Mexico.

As was the case this afternoon, they registered complete superiority over their military rivals from France and Canada. The victorious Mexican team rode in this order:

Baseball Executives Suggest Uniform Ceiling on Bonuses

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4 (AP)—A uniform ceiling of $6000 on all bonus payments to players starting their first year of professional baseball was proposed today at a meeting of the executive councils of minor and major leagues.

Bonuses paid players for signing for their first year as a professional now range from $800 in Class D baseball to $6000 in the major leagues.

To become effective, the recommendation must be approved by the minor leagues as a whole at their annual December meeting. A uniform ceiling for bonus payments in the past has been rejected.

THE CEILING on bonus payments, if accepted, was expected to reduce greatly the number of bonuses paid out in the future in the minor leagues.

It was pointed out that the present or proposed ceiling would have little or no effect on recent bidding for young stars which has reached as high as $75,000.

Pilaster, Miss Grillo Will Meet at Pimlico

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4 (AP)—Henry L. Straus' Pilaster, the sharpest horse in competition in Maryland, and Mill River Stable's Miss Grillo are expected to hook up in an endurance duel at Pimlico tomorrow.

They top a field of seven in the $10,000 mile and a sixteenth Exterminator handicap.

They're mighty good folks to have around...

These four good people have worked for this company a total of 100 years. The average for all 29,000 workers of the Esso Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania and affiliated companies today is almost 14 years!

In a time like this, workers like these are mighty good ones to have on the job — good not just for the company, but also for you.

Their extra measure of skill, experience and job loyalty is setting amazing records in production to help meet an all-time record high demand for gasoline and heating oil and other products. One reason these extra-good workers are here today is simply the extra-good jobs they have at Esso Standard.

Over 30 years ago, these companies set up an unusual "good jobs policy." It was based on the belief that better jobs would mean better workers, and that would mean a better company.

Since then, with our workers, we have developed plans which give every Esso Standard worker such job advantages as these: uniformly good wage scales... vacations with pay... special benefits in case of sickness or accidents... chance to advance in the company... cash savings in a Thrift Plan... fair treatment at all job levels... and planned retirement with steady income assured for life.

All this was done as a matter of good business. It has given good business results. Not a strike or major work disturbance in over 30 years. Steady, skillful workers on the job. Records in production when the country needs record supply of product. Yes... they're mighty good folks to have around, from your point of view and from ours!
